

Zebra's Multiplatform SDK

Custom Apps, Made Easy

Create new applications to print from various mobile platforms—such as Apple® iPhone®, iPad™ and iPod touch® mobile digital devices, BlackBerry® smartphone models or Windows Mobile® terminals and devices to Zebra® mobile or stationary thermal printers with Zebra's ZebraLink™ Multiplatform Software Development Kit (SDK). The SDK includes source code samples, documentation and demonstration modules that make creating custom applications—with embedded support for Zebra printers—clear-cut and straightforward.

Explore the Possibilities

The SDK opens your door to exciting new opportunities for supporting on-demand printing. For your customers, it means they may no longer need to carry multiple devices to enable printing. To start the conversation, download our ZebraLink Smartphone Utility to your BlackBerry smartphone or Windows Mobile terminal or device to demonstrate printing simulated asset tag, photo ID badge or e-citations from a Zebra printer. Once customers see how easily they can get up and running, it's time to explore their application ideas. And coming soon, look for the ZebraLink app for iPhone, iPad and iPod touch on the Apple App StoreSM.

Printing Applications—from Imagination to Creation

Use the ZebraLink Multiplatform SDK to create different applications to support your customers' varied printing needs. The following ideas are only the tip of the iceberg:

- Field service/sales/inspection labels and receipts
- Direct store delivery documentation
- Retail mobile point-of-sale receipts for line busting; price lookup and shelf labeling; mobile online coupon printing
- Healthcare specimen labeling
